BRONSON AND MILLS BUILDINGS WRECKED

Structures to Be Removed to Make Room for New Skyscrapers.

L. W. Hoffecker commenced the work of dismantling the Bronson block Friday to make room for the new eight story American National bank building.

This building was erected in 1885 by E. B. Bronson, now a resident of New York, at a cost of a little less than $20,000, and was then used as the banking establishment of the El Paso National bank, which went into the hands of a receiver in 1895.

Later, H. L. Newman conducted a banking business there, but he in turn sold out to the London National bank, which was succeeded by the American National bank, the present owners, who purchased the property from H. M. Schieffelin of New York, paying $65,000 for the 45 feet on the corner of San Antonio and Oregon streets.

All the tenants, with the exception of A. P. Coles & Bros., have moved out, and they will vacate the premises as soon as the room in the Morehouse building formerly occupied by the Scott White drug store is ready for them. It is expected that this office will be completed in a day or two.

Work of wrecking the Mills building at the corner of Oregon and Mills streets, formerly St. Louis street, was started this morning.

ROSY COLOR.

Produced by Postum. "When a person rises from each meal with a ringing in the ears and a general sense of nervousness, it is a common habit to charge it to a deranged stomach."

"I found it was caused from drinking coffee, which I never suspected for a long time, but found by leaving off coffee that the disagreeable feelings went away."

"I was brought to think of the subject by getting some Postum and this brought me out of trouble."

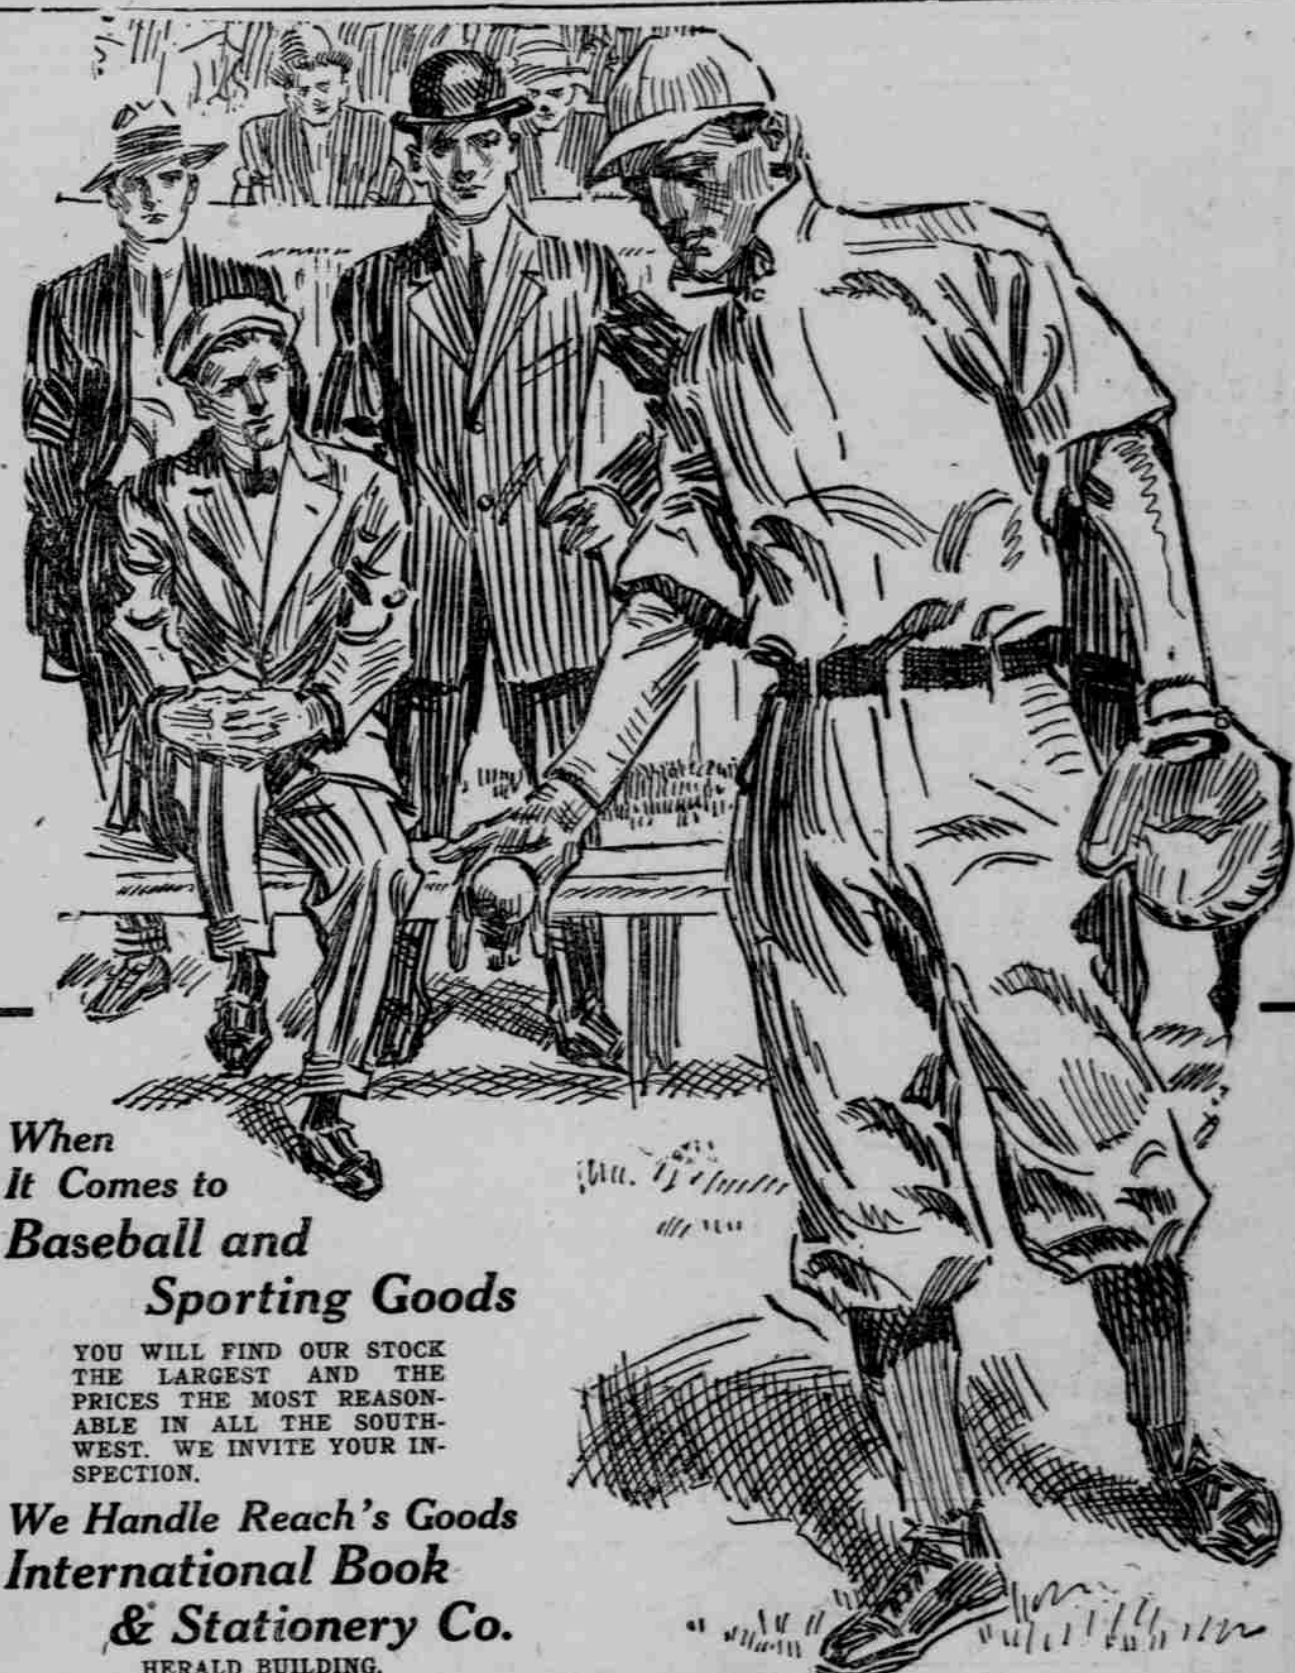

"It is a most appetizing and invigorating beverage and has been of such great benefit to me that I naturally speak of it from time to time as opportunity offers."

"A lady friend complained to me that she had tried Postum, but it did not taste good. In reply to my question she said she guessed she boiled it about ten minutes. I advised her to follow directions and know that she boiled it fifteen or twenty minutes, and she would have something worth talking about. A short time ago I heard one of her children say that they were drinking Postum now-a-days, so I judge she succeeded in making it good, which is by no means a difficult task."

"The son of one of my friends was formerly a pale lad, but since he has been drinking Postum, has a fine color. There is plenty of evidence that Postum actually does 'make red blood,' as the famous 'trade-mark' says."

C. A. Kinne, secretary of the chamber of commerce, is ill today.

MANY REPORTS ARE DELAYED

Volunteers in Large Numbers Have Not Done Work.

All enumerators working under the auspices of the chamber of commerce in the "count us all" census campaign are urged by R. S. B. Washington, the director, to make their report by Monday night.

In the event the volunteer enumerators fail to report by that time, special men will be employed, as the count must be completed within the next three days in order to allow the chamber of commerce committee sufficient time to total the count by April 15, the date the federal enumerators begin work, and prepare to check with them.

It is estimated by Mr. Washington that the census has been taken in all but 250 of the 1500 blocks in El Paso and it is thought that by Monday night, the delinquent list will be considerably reduced. All blocks, however, will not have been reported, and a force of special enumerators are being secured to make a closing and whirlwind count in the event the volunteer enumerators fail to submit their reports.

The enumeration in the northeast part of the city, has up to date been the most general. The count in the Mexican district has also been good. Blocks in which the count has not been submitted, are scattering.

"It is impossible to make an estimate as to El Paso's population," Mr. Washington stated this morning. "Various estimates, ranging from 40,000 to 50,000 have been made by others, but the real count cannot be determined for several days."
